The American athlete is still supreme as the result of the Olympian games.

The village of Washington thought it was going to have its San Francisco.
 And no fire protection, either!

The people of Barre will extend a cordial greeting to the Rev. Mr. Mac-Intyre, the new pastor of the Presbyterian church.

"The saloons are closed, the shutters drawn, Montpelier is dry and the work of dismantling is now going on." What a tale that tells!

Marjorie A. McClure apparently has no fault to find with the treatment of the inmates of the state house of correction, for he will continue to act as bookkeeper after his release.

Clement's modesty in declaring on the witness stand that he didn't know whether to call himself a public speaker or not fitted him well. He might easily have said that he was a public writer without straining the truth.

SWIFT, SURE AND STERN JUSTICE.

It is perhaps not particularly noteworthy that the man who attacked a woman with criminal intent, in Rutland county, should have been allowed the right of a fair and impartial trial, for the offense took place in a state which does not condone lawlessness. But the case allows an interesting study of comparative conditions of the public temperament as regards law enforcement and the color line. The offense for which this man was tried, convicted and sentenced in the Rutland court was identical with that for which men, mostly negroes, are lynched in many sections of the country. And oftentimes colored men are summarily put to death for offenses much less severe than this, in fact, for even petty crimes. Had this assault taken place inside the lynching belt and had he not worn the guise of a white man, albeit his inner self was as black as that of the blackest negro, he would be this day have been strung up to the nearest pole, his body fiddled with bullets and then placed to feed the burning fagots. But happily for the culprit and the good name of society, his offense was committed in Vermont and his color was white. What a hue and cry there would have been in Vermont, even, if he had happened to have a black skin with a black inner self instead of having a white skin to cover his black interior! We might have heard right here in the Green Mountain state the odious cry of "Lynch him!" and the like, heedlessly given in the heat of the moment, but with no apparent purpose other than to add to the excitement of the mob hunt. But there was none of that in this particular case, for the culprit was white and it was in Vermont. So, then, there was nothing very unusual about the conduct of this trial, except the fact that at the end of it the culprit was given a heavy sentence. That is the fitting climax to the satisfactory conduct of the trial. Instead of the several months or a year or two that is too often given criminals of this nature, seven years in the state prison was handed out to this man, while the plea that he was drunk had no mitigating effect.
 Let other judges do the same and let there be as speedy a trial as in this case, and there will be no occasion whatever for raising the cry of "Lynch him!" here in the Green Mountain state.

GOV. HOCH NOMINATED.

Kansas Republicans Want Him Again for Governor—Endorse President.
 Topeka, Kans., May 3.—Gov. Edward W. Hoch yesterday was re-nominated by the Republican state convention, which completed the ticket and adopted a platform reaffirming the party's pride in the "history and achievements of the national organization and adherence to its principles." The resolutions conclude:
 "The vigorous, able and wise administration of President Roosevelt commands our enthusiastic approval as it has won the plaudits of our countrymen regardless of party. We especially approve his demands for the regulation of railroad rates and commend our senator and representatives in Congress for their support of this policy."

Like Twenty-three Cents.
 The figure "23", which is the meaning for "alcohol", has caused no end of amusement in a drug store on North Pearl street. Before the hour of 10 o'clock it is the custom for the clerk who sells an article to call out the amount to the cashier as the customer is walking toward the latter's desk. The calling out of the figures "23" yesterday was the reason for one customer turning back and asking the clerk if he really meant "23". Since then the clerk is in danger of falling into the habit of stuttering in his efforts to evade calling out these figures.—Albany Journal.
